OFFICE: SUPPLY COMPANIES

Wist Office Products has spent the last 50 years working to provide superior service and the highest quality products to Arizona businesses. The office supply industry has changed significantly since 1955, and through the changes, Wist has emphasized keeping the focus on the customer. We strive to be a solution provider for our customers. We feel the success of our company comes largely from our employees, whether it is our knowledgeable in-house customer service representatives or our friendly drivers, we are confident that all Wist employees deliver a higher class of service. As the largest independent office supplier in the Southwest, Wist has been a leader in developing the technology needed to efficiently manage inventory as well as process and track orders. E-commerce is growing in every industry, and in order to remain successful, Wist must have a user-friendly Web site that allows customers to place their orders on their own time. Wist customers boast about the convenience of being able to order up to 5 p.m. and still receive their orders by the next day. The Wist name has been synonymous with the office product industry in Arizona when founder Martin Wist started business in 1922. The present company has been active since 1955. As a locally owned business, Wist is positioned to meet customers' needs, as well as directly support the local economy. Clearly, Wist has been chosen No. 1 by the Arizona business community for providing superior service and pricing as compared to other Valley suppliers.
